

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
The Fluidity of Language and Pronoun Confusion.	5
How to Use This Student’s Guide.	7
Ways to Enhance Your Study	9
UNIT 1
Lesson 1: Anne Bradstreet	11
“To My Dear and Loving Husband,” “Another,” “As weary pilgrim, now at rest,” “By night when others soundly slept,” and “Upon the Burning of Our House” (poetry, text in this Guide)	16
Literary Lesson: Giving a Close Reading	22
Lesson 2: Henri Nouwen: Can You Drink the Cup? (nonfiction)	31
Literary Lesson: Writing a Basic Essay.	37
UNIT 2
Lesson 3: Walker Percy	47
“Another Message in a Bottle” (essay, text in this Guide)	52
Literary Lesson: Reading to Respond	62
Lesson 4: Madeleine L’Engle: A Circle of Quiet (autobiography)	69
Literary Lesson: Writing a Literary Essay	76
UNIT 3
Lesson 5: Wendell Berry	85
“Manifesto: The Mad Farmer Liberation Front,” “The Way of Pain,” “A Meeting,” “We Who Prayed and Wept,” “In the Motel Parking Lot, Thinking of Doctor Williams,” “Enemies,” and “Come Forth” (poetry, text in this Guide)	88
Literary Lesson: Telling the Truth	93
Lesson 6: Frederick Buechner: Godric (fiction)	99
Literary Lesson: A Biblical Response to Sin in Literature	103
UNIT 4
Lesson 7: Flannery O’Connor: “The Artificial Nigger” (short story found on the Internet)	107
Literary Lesson: Evaluating Literature Critically	115
Perspectives: Racism and Flannery O’Connor	122
Lesson 8: Elisabeth Elliot: No Graven Image (fiction)	127
Literary Lesson: Finding a Touchstone	138
Perspectives	143
Appendix A: Discussion Questions and Project Suggestions	147
Appendix B: Additional Reading	157
Appendix C: Semester and Full-Year Schedules	161
Bibliography	171